* The % Daily Values (DV) tells you how much a nutrient in a serving of food contributes to a daily diet. 2000 calories a day is used for general nutrition advice.

According to the FDA, "Scientific evidence suggests but does not prove that eating 1.5 ounces per day of most nuts, such as pistachios, as part of a diet low in saturated fat and cholesterol, may reduce the risk of heart disease."

Pistachios, with 6g protein, are a "good source" of protein with 10% DV. Gram for gram pistachios have more protein than lentils, paneer and chickpeas.

A one-ounce serving of pistachios equals 49 nuts — more per serving than any other snack nut.

Pistachios, like olive oil, primarily contain monounsaturated fat. The Dietary Guidelines for Americans recommend you get most of your fats from sources of polyunsaturated and monounsaturated fatty acids.

You can obtain as much dietary fiber from a 50g serving of pistachios (5.3g) as from 50g of brown rice (2.2g), spinach (1.4g) and papaya (1.4g).

2 oz of pistachio kernels has more potassium (570mg, 16 percent DV) than a large banana (487mg, 14 percent DV).

Pistachios contain more than 10% of the Daily Value (DV) of protein, dietary fiber and essential vitamins and minerals like B6, thiamin, copper and phosphorus.

Pistachios are a naturally cholesterol-free snack that contain only 1.5g of saturated fat.
